ABOUT

Cynthia brings a diverse range of work experience and leadership skills to the JGUA team. After graduating from Cornell University, Cynthia worked as a Legislative Assistant for the U.S. House of Representatives' Subcommittee on Insular and International Affairs under a Congressional Hispanic Caucus Institute Fellowship. While attending law school at the University of Virginia, Cynthia was president of the Hispanic Law Student Association. She had previously worked as a Wage and Hour Investigator for the Connecticut Department of Labor where she audited employer payroll and time records for state and federal compliance and also investigated such complaints.

Prior to joining John G. Ullman & Associates, Inc., she worked as an attorney for the U. S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission Office of Legal Counsel in Washington, D.C. where she advised and counseled the Commission on ethics, procurement contracts, conflicts of interest, financial disclosure obligation and the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA). Her experience working in Federal and State agencies has prepared her to address the wide range of legal and financial issues clients face in building strong financial futures.
